Sophias individual reflection: Week 4

What do I want to learn or understand better?

I want to learn more about the functionality and create methods behind the application because right now I have been working on a lot of GUI and navigation. It feels more rewarding to see what you are creating but the functionality makes the application come together. So for the next week's assignment I will probably add more functionality to the application.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

This week we collaborated together, specifically me and Isabella, and it worked really well! We had a session where we were five people working on the project and asked each other questions if we had any issues. We added some text channels on discord as well to share our tutorial tips, documents and images. This worked really well and anyone that had any input would add into that! Hopefully this will continue this well next week too so that is what I will try to make into a routine.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

We have not used too much of Scrum this week because the focus was mainly on assignments/tasks. But it did help us see an overview of what we have done so far and what goal we have to finish our product. It made us see what assignment we are supposed to do next. The purpose of this course is to work more agilely and one of the main points of this course is the use of Scrum. So I would like to use it more and apply it into our work. How I fix this is checking the ScrumBoard more often and what kind of DoD's we have to fulfill.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

Me and Isabella tied our screens, GUI and navigation together so now the app is looking like a proper prototype. We have also connected it with some of the functionality and the cute animation we got from Alexander. Right now it feels like we are working really well together and the results are looking really good and we are working a lot faster. It is probably because we took the first weeks to learn about what we are going to accomplish and now we finally can put our minds into it. I want us to continue this and work this way because it gives good results.
