Individual reflection: Week 42

What do I want to learn or understand better?

In this sprint we were wrapping up our user stories. I personally took the time to look at the final report structure and made some notes that will help us write the final report. At this point I feel like this project gave me a lot of knowledge that can be taken and applied in real life when working with projects. I can't say that I'm super good now with applying scrum method, but want to apply it with real customers where the true knowledge kicks in.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

Nothing has changed

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

Nothing has changed since last week.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

This sprint I haven't done coding, but I helped to initialize a good structure for the final report by making some notes. Overall I have known my responsibilities and delivered my contributed parts as required. Some of the time I was afraid of not making progress since I haven't worked with Javascript before, but always got some help when needed and managed to deliver on time.
