Sophias individual reflection: Week 1

What do I want to learn or understand better?

I want to learn more about how to work in teams and how to divide workload fairly in such a big group. I am worried about my capability and if I will contribute enough. But I am not worried that I won't try my best. I keep thinking about the team exercise when drawing in sprints e.g. Mona Lisa. How to divide the workload when we have such different styles and I am worried that if we divide everything too much, maybe we will accidently do the same work. We have started to discuss the project, and that we should work together a lot in the beginning to make sure everyone knows what to do and eventually divide it more when everyone feels more comfortable and confident.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

How I can help someone else is making sure everyone is on the same page. Because right now we have varying skills in different subjects. What is good about this group though is that I feel like everyone is comfortable enough to ask if they have any questions. If someone feels like they do not understand, I try to answer if I have knowledge about it. Else we tend to discuss the matter to understand it better.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum and deliveries?

The course has just started and it is hard to say what contribution I have done towards the team's use of Scrum and deliveries. I came up with the idea to make a garbage collecting app. But I want to do more and of course learn more about Scrum and contribute as much as I can to the team.
